

For years I have gone to that area to visit friends and to enjoy the stunning wildlife the sea provides. Kayaking there has been a joy.

I have contemplated purchasing property there; however, the sea's status and the support given to it have made me and others hesitant. Such hesitation only adds to the economic woes of the already distressed area.

In summary, I urge you to take all necessary actions to assure that the sea remain a vibrant part of that portion of California. In advance, I thank you for your efforts and support.

Barbara Cole, Ph.D.