1:10 – 3:00 p.m.

Discussion: Stakeholders across the business community continuum will discuss different suggestions that have been presented to the Little Hoover Commission over the course of its underground economy study process. These will include ideas on how to make it easier for businesses to comply with labor- and employment-related rules and regulations and ideas of business leaders on due diligence and liability. Stakeholders also will discuss making the risks of participating in the underground economy outweigh the rewards and increasing the state's collections capacity, as well as other ideas shared by participants.
